

Baylor University
GEORGE W. TRUETT THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

To maintain a Truett Competitive Scholarship, the scholarship recipient must:

- Remain a student in good standing at Truett Seminary
- Make progress towards degree completion within the past academic year
 - There is no minimum hour stipulation per semester.
 - There is also no deadline to complete the degree program; however, if the recipient does not enroll in classes for two consecutive terms, the scholarship will reset to zero.
- Full tuition scholarship recipients must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0
- Partial tuition scholarship recipients must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0
- If a student has been awarded a competitive scholarship and delays/defers their enrollment by a semester, they will forfeit the scholarship.

Process:

A competitive scholarship application is required.

A FAFSA needs to be completed by domestic students.

Notification will be sent out to students who are awarded a competitive scholarship. The letter will include the number of attempted hours the scholarship covers, what scholarship dollar amount per credit hour is received, the entry term the scholarship begins, and instructions to accept the scholarship by a specific date.

To maintain a Truett FSI scholarship specific to the residential and online degrees, the scholarship recipient must:

- Remain a student in good standing at Truett Seminary
- Make progress towards degree completion within past academic year
 - There is no minimum hour stipulation per semester.
 - There is also no deadline to complete the degree program; however, if the recipient does not enroll in classes for two consecutive terms, the scholarship will reset to zero.
- FSI Scholarship recipients must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0
- In addition all the residential degree program students need to
 - Declare that they are officially enrolled in the sports ministry concentration (M.A. students) and sports ministry certificate of studies (M.Div. Students)
 - Have involvement with Truett's Sports Ministry activities and leadership opportunities during each academic term
